THE LAND OF MILK AND HONEY.

The London and Dublin papers received by the last mail are full of lachrymose paragraphs and articles on the disgraceful treatment with which the British emigrants by the Dresden met on their arrival in our midst. Reading such plaintive literature makes one feel the deepest commiseration for the poor, benighted people who rushed in an evil moment to this "land of milk and honey," to this land where idlers need only open their mouths to swallow "grilled pigeons," to this land where roasted pigs run about the streets with forks stuck in their hams, imploring hungry emigrants to catch and eat them. To think, alas, that in such a land people should starve, because they have not buckets to catch the milk and honey, nor forks and knives to carve the pigeons, nor the legs quick enough to overtake the pigs! To think that in a country where nearly fifty per cent of the population do not sleep in beds, emigrants should shudder at the recollection of sleeping roofless bedless, sans sheets, sans blankets, and sans a washing-stand, in a court-yard near the portals of the President's palace and within stone throw of the gates of the Government House! To think that in this nineteenth century a policeman, armed with sword, should be stationed at the corner of every block, in one of the most progressive cities of the world, to prevent disorder and confirm the reputation that Buenos Aires is one of the best guarded towns on the globe, surpasses the comprehension of some of the Dresden emigrants who returned to Great Britain in the Helvelius. It is terrible indeed to read how the unfortunate emigrants were frightened out of their lives at night by the incursions of "awful great rats" which were running about all over the women. Then the "shattered hopes" on landing at Buenos Ayres and learning that no extraordinary provisions had been made for their reception; we can imagine the disappointment and even feel for the fifty thousand Italians who have arrived here since the 1st of January under similar circumstances. It must be a terrible trial to all these people to lodge in the Asylum and feed on soup, bread and meat. We can well imagine the sufferings of the several Dresden emigrants who actually went to restaurants and, after ordering five or six courses, were disgusted to find they all consisted of meat. Now let us read some particulars of their experience as published in the English papers:—

"While we were at Montevideo, en route to Buenos Ayres, several Roman Catholic priests came on board our boat and told the people that everything was provided for their arrival, that they would have a good hotel to go to, and that they would obtain immediate work. The disappointment was therefore the greater when it was found that there was really nothing prepared at all. On the Sunday I could stand the Home no longer, and went and got lodgings in the town, but I used to go down to the Home each day to see how they were getting on.

"There was an office in the Home at which application might be made for information, but hardly anyone could understand English there, and you had the greatest difficulty to make yourself understood. I am a carpenter by trade, and on the Sunday night I fell in with an Englishman—a foreman of works—who told me to come and see him on the following morning. I went down and saw him, and got work at three dollars a day, which is the highest price paid in the country. A dollar is only worth about 2s. 6d. in English money, and taking into account the dearness of house-rent, food and clothing, I could earn more money in England. You have to pay from 16 to 18 dollars a month for the rent of one bare room, which has no comfort whatever. All the houses are built round square court-yards, and you have to fraternise with Spaniards and Italians everywhere. You have got a job to get anywhere where there is an Englishman I spoke to a few whom I came across, and there was not a single one who did not advise me to get home as fast as ever I could.

"There was a man came down from the country while I was there, from a distance of about 500 miles. He wanted 30 hands for working a stone quarry at two dollars a day. And he very soon got them, too. Thirty bricklayers, carpenters, brass-fitters shop-assistants, and all sorts of tradesmen went up there to this quarry for two dollars a day, because they could find nothing else to do."

Our readers will not be surprised to learn that this climate is very relaxing, owing to the bad quality of the water!

"With regard to the supply of food at Buenos Ayres, meat is very cheap—3d. or 4d. a pound—but it is not so good as our English stuff. If you go into a restaurant and order a dinner of five or six courses, every one of them nearly will consist of meat. The climate out there is very relaxing because the water is so very bad. You have to drink the river water, and everyone was bad through it while I was there. Those who had the money paid for their own food and drink, but those who hadn't were obliged to put up with what they could get at the Emigrants' Hotel."

The following paragraph is graphic and full of truth. It not only reflects the first impressions of fresh arrivals, but is also correct with regard to lack of comforts, cost of living, and competition of Italians. Let every intending British emigrant study the following lines before starting, and be prepared to "rough" it, as he must expect to do in every new country, whether Australia, the American West or the Argentine Republic.—

"I can assure you there was not a single Englishman in the whole party who would not have gone home if he could have walked the whole distance. I consider I was taken in, because there is nothing in the statements which were made. There is no prospect at all for an Englishman out there, unless he is a farmer with sufficient capital to carry him along over the first twelve months. In that case a man might do fairly well. As it is, three dollars a day in the Republic is not worth more than 4s. a day in England, and one could not get anything like the amount of comfort out of it. In fact, there is no comfort whatever to be had in the country. No matter what your pay might be, you would have to put up with very rough living, and in going out would be wise to make up your mind that you were leaving comfort at home.

"The mechanic must cook his own food himself. He occupies a solitary apartment abutting on one of the court yards. There are no fireplaces out there, and in the winter time there is no alternative but to sit indoors and shiver. There is a little brazier in the court yard where you cook your food, and a well whence you get your water. The big houses in Buenos Ayres also have courtyards planted with palms and trees, and beautiful places they are.

"What is the cause of the lowness of wages?"

"Well, the fact is you have to work against Italians and Belgians in carpentry and bricklaying. These fellows are ready to work for 1½ dollars day, and can live on the odd half dollar. It is impossible for an Englishman to compete with them. It would have been all right if the wages had been as they were represented to us, viz., 8s. to 10s. a day. If I had not believed that statement to be true I certainly would not advise anyone to go out, if they have got regular work and a comfortable home. They are much better off where they are. The only thing that is cheap out there is tobacco. Clothes are extremely dear, and could not be procured out of the wages. The water can't be drunk, and you can get nothing else under about 5d. Some of the Englishmen went to the British Consul, but they were curtly told that they had come out on their own responsibility and must put up with the consequence.

"Robert Cooper, a brick-layer, residing in the Isle of Wight, went out with me, and his prospect, had he remained, would have been even worse than mine. Bricklayers could not get work at all, especially if they happened to be Englishmen. The Italians do all that work. All the houses out there are plastered, the brickwork being very rough. There was another man I met out there, a saddler from London. He only stayed at Buenos Ayres nine or ten days, and then threw it up. He could only get two dollars a day, and seeing there was no chance, he preferred to come home.

The above excerpts give a very fair idea of the pretentions of some of the Dresden emigrants. To all such we say, "By all means stay at home". But to those who are strong, steady and sober, willing to work and rough it, we say "Come and try your fortune; the odds are in your favour, that in a very few years you will make an independence, perhaps a fortune". There is no reason why an Englishman, Scotchman or Irishman should not succeed as well as thousands of Italians, and, if he work hard, put by part of his earnings in the English Bank as the Italians do in the Italian banks, and on following their example of economy learn that the secret of success lies in the sacrifice of those comforts the lack of which so much hurt the feelings of the returned Dresden emigrants. One thing is certain, and that is, that the lachrymose report of these emigrants will help to keen away many fastidious and pretentious elements this country can well afford to keep at arm's distance; their report will also have the salutary effect of deterring any emigration "en masse" and checking the absurd propaganda of some too enthusiastic emigration agents.

THE FINANCIAL WORLD

Antibes. March 17th.

New loans are in the air, and we may expect, if peace be preserved to see some heavy transactions this year. Russia proposes to convert her Railway loans of 1870-76 into new Four per cents, which would considerably lighten her annual payments for interest. For this purpose she requires 69 millions sterling, but as loans are made in round numbers it is likely that the sum demanded will be Seventy Millions, equivalent in Russian money to 420 million gold roubles. I do not anticipate that there will be much difficulty in floating such a loan, as the surplus capital at present in search for investment is enormous. The savings of G. Britain alone exceed £400,000 a day; those of France are even higher. Some outlet must be found for this wealth, and it is not surprising that Russia should avail herself of the occasion.

France also needs a new loan of 1,200 million francs, or nearly fifty millions sterling, to lighten the Floating Debt and to meet a new demand of 500 million francs under the item of "extraordinary expenditure" for 1889. The French debt is already the biggest in the world, but an addition of 50 millions sterling is not the worst feature of the financial position. It is that deficits are now of yearly recurrence, the expenditure increasing steadily, without any corresponding increase of revenue. If the country were not already heavily taxed it might be easy to devise some new source of public income, but the Finance Minister has exhausted his ingenuity in that direction. The budget for 1888 was 153 millions sterling, a sum almost double what it was under Napoleon III. No wonder that Frenchmen are beginning to think the Republic a very costly form of government, though shorn of all the brilliancy that surrounded the Imperial Court. It needs no prophet to say that the Republic is on its last legs, and we may as safely affirm that its downfall is due in great measure to bad finances. The collapse of the Panama Canal and the Comptoir d'Escompte has been the "coup de grace", for these two disasters have been much felt. Yesterday the shares of the Bank of France fell many points, equal to a decline of 2 per cent, and the shock has caused all other bank shares to fall likewise. There is a general feeling that the worst has yet to come, a feeling which makes the political situation still more hazardous than before.

Mr. Goschen has intimated his intention to convert the remainder of the British National Debt into 2½ per cents., a measure which ought to gain popularity for the Government, but of course the holders of Consols will be sorely annoyed, and as they constitute 350,000 persons among the educated classes a strong element of discontent is thereby created. Moreover the additional outlay of 21 millions sterling on the navy is a gloomy outlook for the taxpayer, in whatever way the Chancellor of the Exchequer may propose to raise the money. The Tories have a long-earned reputation of wanton expenditure, which this new demand will serve to accentuate. A clamor has, indeed, been raised that the navy is wholly deficient to protect all the scattered dependencies of the Empire. Counting ships for ships this is perhaps true, but the supremacy of our fleet has always been rather in the skill and character of British seamen than in numbers or in weight of metal. Nevertheless, any money judiciously expended in strengthening the navy is well laid out, and in this matter I am entirely of Lord Brassey's opinion, that small vessels like the Huascar are the best. The loss of the Sultan, a vessel which cost £700,000, is a serious lesson.

As regards American finances it seems that President Harrison does not propose to reduce the import duties, but to devote the annual surplus revenue to the creation of a powerful navy. The worst of it is, that when Jonathan finds himself master of a fleet of first-class ironclads he may feel disposed to meddle in extraneous questions, and to assert his right to bring the moralizing influences of gunpowder to bear on matters that effect other nations more than the U. States.

MITRE'S DANTE.

Italians as a rule consider that none but an Italian can understand Dante, and to a certain extent they may be right, for even the best English translators of the "Infernal Laureate" have never succeeded in being intelligible, save by reference to the original. They are all slavishly true to the words but false to the spirit, and the cantos of the unmatched Florentine are too subtle and too deep to be caught and reflected in the English language.

Who reads Dante in English? we ask. Perhaps a few like ourself who have grown to appreciate him, less by a profound study of his Divine Comedy than by the noble monuments which commemorate his name, fame and genius in every city in Italy. What Shakespeare is to the Englishman Dante is to the Italian. Anything, therefore, that can bring us nearer to Dante we accept as a boon, since it tends to familiarize us with perhaps the greatest genius the world has ever known.

Mitre's Dante, which, through the great attention of the gifted author, we have just received, is indeed a most welcome present. We have read through every line of the little volume, and we congratulate the General, not only on his new departure in the peaceful paths of River Plate literature, and his admirable preface, which explains the motives that led him to his ambitious task, but also on his harmonious and exact translation, which shows how possible it is in the Spanish language to combine close accuracy with the graces of the most poetical expression.

As it may interest a few of our readers to compare the English with the Spanish translation, we shall take the liberty of making a few extracts from Longfellow's and Mitre's Dante; but we must confess that General Mitre has much astonished us by his statement that there are seventy millions of people who speak Spanish, and yet until now but one defective Spanish translation of Dante, by General Pezuela:—

MITRE.

Por mi se llega á la mansion doliente;
Por mi se pasa á eterno sufrimiento;
Por mi se va trás la maldita gente.

Movió á mi Autor el justiciero aliento;
Hizome la Divina Gobernanza,
El Primo Amor, el Alto Pensamiento.

Antes de mi, no hubo ninguna criansa,
Sino lo Eterno; soy yo lo que dura:
Abandona al entrar toda esperanza!

Esta leyenda de color oscura,
Inscrita estaba en lo alto de una puerta,
Y yo exclamé—"Oh! que sentencia dura!"

Mi guia, con palabra asaz diserta,
Previnome:—"Afirma tu conciencia,
Y que toda flaqueza quede muerta.

"Hemos llegado á la primera audiencia,
Donde gimen las almas desgraciadas
Que perdieron el don de inteligencias".

LONGFELLOW

"Through me the way is to the city dolent;
Through me the way is to eternal dole;
Through me the way among the people lost.
Justice incited by sublime Creator;
Created me divine Omnipotence,
The highest Wisdom and the primal Love.
Before me there were no created things,
Only eterne, and I eternal last,
All hope abandon, ye who enter in!"
These words in sombre color I beheld
Written upon the summit of a gate;
Whence I: "Their sense is, Master, hard to me!"
And he to me as one experienced:
"Here all suspicion needs must be abandoned,
All cowardice must needs be here extinct.
We to the place have come, where I have told thee
Thou shalt behold the people dolorous
Who have forgone the good of intellect."

RACING NOTES AND ANTICIPATIONS.

To-day's programme for Belgrano is, on the face of it, fairly good, but, as is unhappily too frequent on this course, the fields will probably dwindle away till no interest in the sport is left. Besides, there are several counter attractions which, in limiting the attendance, will probably render the meeting dull to the utmost extent.

The ball will be opened by the Premio Porvenir, which appears to lie between the top and bottom weights, Kildare and Parasol, the former for choice. The Premio Concordia should be a certainty for the Stud Uruguayo, and one of their representatives will probably walk over. On last Sunday's form, the second Criterium is at the mercy of Ministro, but as at this season of the year two-year-olds vary from day to day, and even from hour to hour, an upset might come from an unexpected quarter. The Premio Perseverencia ought to fall to one of the Casals, with Brujo or Napoli. The chief event, the Premio Relampago, is set rather late in the day, a mistake at this season of the year, as the evening mist is apt to obscure the colours of the jockeys. If Bismarck runs, the race is a gift for him, but as his market status is not perfectly firm, we must perforce look for a second string, although we know he has done a splendid preparation and is thoroughly fit. Caustique, Phidias and Colibri have in turn been favourite, and the former being probably a non-starter, Colibri should be able to take care of Phidias, having most to fear from the out-sider of the party, Cassolette. A trotting event winds up the afternoon.

HEALTH AND IMMIGRATION

(From the Rio News)

Rio. April 22nd.

A defalcation or theft of 20,000 dollars was reported to the police station from the S Christovao station of the Rio do Ouro railway on the 14th ult. The money was in part destined for the payment of the battalion of engineers.

The cable announces the acquittal of Barao de Wildick, ex-consul for Portugal in Rio, and his treasurer, who were charged with "making away" with the money in the consulate belonging to Portuguese subjects. We felt certain that this would be the result.

On Saturday 13th inst. a "Te Deum" was celebrated at the S. Francisco Paula church by the confraternity in thanks for the re-establishment of the Emperor's health. The Imperial family, representatives of the press and other distinguished persons were present.

With commendable alacrity our municipal chamber opened unlimited credits at certain chemists' shops during the recent epidemic for the furnishing of physic to indigent persons. Now the chemists want their money, and the chamber wants the Government to settle the accounts. Verily municipal affairs are unintelligible in Rio.

Mrs Maria Herdegen, wife of the unhappy German who recently committed suicide here, died on the 19th of yellow fever. She was taken ill on the day she was to take a steamer for home, and her death followed speedily in spite of the sympathy and attention aroused for her in this city. She and her husband were on their way home from New Zealand.

A sailor on the Aquidaban, ironclad, killed a comrade with a chisel on the 12th inst. with the most extraordinary coolness. He had quarrelled with another sailor, when the murdered man interfered and received the chisel in his heart. The murderer reported to the officer of the watch that "he had sworn to kill somebody on board that vessel." There is no capital punishment in Brazil.

At half past three on the morning of the 15th a party of sailors and marines from the Brazilian war vessels in port landed and attacked the police at the Praça das Marinhas. They were driven away by the police. During the skirmish they used their revolvers freely. It would be interesting to know how these fellows got liberty to come ashore in boats at such an hour.

It may be important for the admiring visitors to the Brazilian exhibit in Paris to know that in this country the paper on which this journal is printed is classified as writing paper, and pays a duty of 5½ cents a pound.

The American steamer Alliança is not expected to arrive before the 28th inst.

Work has been begun on the artesian wells in Ceará, and with the best prospects of success.

The General Assembly should open on the 3rd proximo, but it is reported that a quorum will not be present.

The Jornal of the 18th publishes the conditions for the laying of a direct cable between Brazil and the United States.

The minister of empire has ordered a comprehensive census of the "cortiços" (tenement houses) of the city.

It is to be noted that Dr. Domingos Freire has gone up to Campina to inoculate those left with his yellow fever preventive. We shall now see what effect the Doctor's "cryptococcus" will have on typhus.

Thirty-three criminals under sentence were pardoned by the Emperor on Good Friday, according to custom. At the same time his Majesty instructed the minister of justice to prepare a list of ex-slaves convicted under the law of 1835, on which his imperial clemency may be exercised.

The latest telegrams from Campinas state that the sanitary condition there shows some improvement. On the 20th there were 26 deaths in the town, and the number of new cases of the epidemic was decreasing. There were 212 patients in the hospitals, of which 127 were cases of yellow (or typhus?) fever.

The País of the 15th relates that a poor Spanish colonist worked for a Cantagallo planter during the busy season, and was then kicked into the public highway with a wife and three children, without being paid, and with the brutal remark that he "could kill hunger somewhere else." The poor wretches found their way back to this city, where they have been beggingfood and shelter. There ought to be a whipping post put up for such planters.

It being reported that the immigrants sent to Rio Grande do Sul last month on the coasting steamer Victoria were treated badly on board, the minister of agriculture has applied to the inspector of subsidized navigation companies for information, declaring that the steamers of the Companhia Nacional will no longer have preference in this service should the charges prove true. It may be anticipated, however, that the inspector will not report against the company.

We see by a telegram from Madrid that "eight days quarantine have been imposed on all vessels coming from Brazilian ports." Good for the Madrileños! We shall miss that enchanting ride up the silvery Manzanarez, and may have to land somewhere in Holland in order to escape quarantine, but at the same time it is perfectly right for them to use every precaution. If the fever were to get in among the shipping on the Manzanarez there is no telling where the mischief would end.

There is perhaps no public service in the world outside of Turkey so insatiately irresponsible and arbitrary as the custom house of Rio de Janeiro. If an importer contests the decision of an ignorant, irritable, self-complacent conferente, he is then and thereafter treated worse than a smuggler, infinitely worse than the defaulter who tries to clear out with the public funds entrusted to his care. When will Brazil create a court of justice where official influence is not felt, and where a merchant can get his rights protected?

There were 5,645 immigrant arrivals at this port in March, of which 3,461 were Italians, 1,585 Portuguese, 413 Spaniards, 56 Austrians, and the remainder of diverse nationalities. Of the total, 3,967 were males and 4,468 were over twelve years of age. The total March arrivals at Rio and Santos were 7,479, and the departures for foreign destinations were 381. Of those sent to Rio Grande, however, 750 are to be returned to Italy because of dissatisfaction, and an unknown number has crossed over the frontier into Uruguay.

BRITISH IMMIGRATION.

To the Editor of the Standard,
Dear Sir,

Dublin, March 30th.

My attention having been attracted by a statement in a late Standard, that one of the Argentine Government Inf. Offices in Ireland, had made certain charges to emigrants through its delegated agents, for filling up their application papers &c. I may state that I heard such was the case. I must however say that the Office referred to is not the Dublin Office, under the direction of Mr. H. B. O'Meara, which supplies every information respecting the Republic, Pamphlets, Maps, etc. etc., fills up passage application forms, in fact does everything that intending emigrants can need, as well as supplies manufacturers, capitalists and merchants with the fullest information regarding the Argentine Republic, amongst all classes of people, absolutely free, although at much pecuniary loss to himself, as our Government has not allowed him anything to cover the very heady extra expenses to which he has been subject. Besides working early and late himself he has paid his secretary's salary out of his own pocket during the last nine months. I have seen letters received by emigration agents in the country from Mr. O'Meara, in which he threatened them with prosecution in case they continued to represent themselves as being appointed by him, or to make charges to intending emigrants. Every possible means was availed of in the district pertaining to Mr. O'Meara's Office to make it known that everything was done free of charge, I would suggest that the Dublin Office being the most central and under the direction of a gentleman well-known for his honor and probity here and in Buenos Ayres, is the only one needed in this country, and if such a view should be adopted by the Minister it would be the means of effecting a considerable saving, as well as preventing abuses.

INSPECTOR IRIARTE'S REPORT.—TRAFFIC-RETURNS OF THE EAST ARGENTINE—PACIFIC RAILWAY ESTIMATES FOR 1890—B. AYRES GREAT SOUTHERN AND ROSARIO LINES.

Inspector Iriarte's report for the week ended yesterday was received last evening at the National Railway Board. According to the inspector, the week passed off swimmingly enough, the following mishaps occurred: April 30: derailment at 5 a.m., of a small engine shunting wagons; May 3: derailment of engine at the San Fernando Junction; great delay caused, the last train due at the Central Station at 11.50 arriving at 2 a.m.; May 4: Ensenada train No. 1; derailment of engine between Pereyra and Conchitas. No loss of life.

Mr. Iriarte complains of the wretched state of the deposits of the Rosario Line at Retiro. There appears to be no room for all the goods. The Northern Line is repairing the Retiro Station.

The traffic-returns of the East Argentine last January were: gross-returns $29,404; working-expenses $21,766. Net earnings $7,638. This lookes very promising at first sight, and one would think the deficit-period is over. But the figures for February shew a loss. The gross returns were $21,390. Deficit $71. The proportion of expenses in January was 74 per cent, and in February 100.34 per cent.

The manager of the Pacific Railway has drawn up the estimates of returns and expenses for 1890. Mr. Cortinez is looking over these estimates, which set down the gross-returns at $2,409,744 and the working-expenses at $1,250,160, say 51.88 per cent of the returns. According to the conditions agreed to for the purpose of the payment of the guarantee, the working-expenses should be 40 per cent of the gross-returns. The excellent manner in which this Budget has been prepared reflects great credit on the staff of the Pacific Railway Company and we are glad to note that Mr. Manager Hill has such an able and trustworthy assisant as Mr. George Nelson, accountant, who has had, without doubt, to take an important part in the matter.

A telegram was received yesterday from Inspector Nolasco, who is in La Paz, announcing that the line is now repaired and in working order.

Dr. Araoz is preparing to cast a glance at the estimates recently presented by the East Argentine. Yesterday he applied to the Home-Office for copies of decrees in regard to the payment of guarantees.

Inspector Fernandez has asked to the Railway Board to name another Inspector in his place, as he intends going to law with the Administrator of the Andine Railway.

Manager Munro, of the Central North line, reports the burning of a parcels and post van on the 25th ult., due to the guard having thrown a lighted match into a reserved part of the wagon, where grease for the wheels was kept. All the mails except a few loose letters in the pigeon holes were saved. The loss is about 3,000 dollars: including the money parcels of 100 and 67 dollars. The baggage guard and conductor of the train have been dismissed.

The manager of the East Argentine Railway reports to the National Railway Board that the trains have been lighted with vegetable oil instead of kerosene since 1882. On the Andine line also vegetable oil is now used.

The half yearly general meeting of the Southern Railway was held on March 28th, at the Cannon Street Hotel, Mr. Frank Parrish presiding. At the outset the chairman referred to the latest telegram which had been received from Buenos Ayres, according to which the traffic on the line was steadily increasing and more rolling stock was urgently needed. The cross receipts for February had amounted to £127.490, and the net to £36,820. The working expenses had been 47.59 per cent. Everything was going on well. Advices received that morning for the last week's traffic showed that the receipts had been £31,821, or £4'538 more than those of the corresponding period of last year. The total increase in the receipts up to date had been £64,012. In moving the adoption of the report he stated that two of the directors, Mr. Barker and Mr. Coghlan, were now in Buenos Ayres, looking after the affairs of the company, and more particularly inquiring into the question of the extentions. Last year's working showed that there had been a satisfactory improvement in every branch of their business. They were enabled to pay the usual interim dividend of four per cent. for the half year and a bonus of 1 per cent., and to carry forward £11,000. He afterwards alluded to various important public and other works which were being carried out in the Republic. Mr. John Fair seconded the motion, which was adopted.

We clip the following comments from a London exchange on the report of the Buenos Aires and Rosario Railway for 1888:

The report for 1888 is satisfactory, but the actual progress made compared with 1887 cannot easily be measured owing to the increased mileage and the fluctuation in the rate of exchange. Hitherto the accounts have been calculated at the par of exchange, that is five dollars odd to the pound sterling, and the statement for 1888 is so rendered, but for the future the much better plan will be pursued of counting only the actual receipts converted into English money.

Some 341 miles were worked against 265, or an increase of 28 per cent., and the gain in receipts, taking five dollars to the pound, gives an increase of 32 6 per cent. The working expense was 30-8 per cent., giving an increase of 34-3 per cent, in the net receipts. The receipts per train mile amount to 1s. 6d. more than in 1887 and the expenses per train mile to only 4½ d.more, showing an increased net profit of 1s. 1½d. It is only right to add that 19,300 tons of material for the extensions were carried on revenue account against 2,600 tons in 1887, and in a system like this where extensions are being pushed on there generally is some grist from mileage not included in the length of line worked on revenue account. Making allowance on these two points, however, there yet is left enough to show that the system has tangibly improved during the year. The loss on exchange amounted to over £106,000, against £65,000, and were it not for this the distribution for the year would have been more than 9 per cent. The gross receipts for the first twelve weeks of the current year have averaged £27 13s. 11d. per mile per week, gold, as compared with £24 2s. 11d. for the corresponding period of 1888.

It is anticipated that the Tucuman extension will be completed throughout by the end of next year. The concessions for three branches on the Sunchales extension have been secured, the three making 169 miles, and to provide the money for these and the Tucuman extension, the capital will be increased by £1,000,000 in £10 shares. Another £1,000,000 will probably be required to finish all the works in hand and projected, and will be raised in 4 per cent. debentures. The Company can now borrow as low as that, and are talking of converting the existing 5 per cent. debentures into 4 per cent. stock on the basis of £125 of 4 per cent. stock for every £100 of 5 per cent. stock. This will not involve any additional burden on the Company, and might possibly prove an advantage to the 5 per cent. holders. A reserve fund has been started, and there has been carried to it £15,000 out of the profits for 1888, and £192,000 premiums received on the issues of shares and debenture stock. Not at all a bad beginning.

In regard to the proposal to run electric elevated tramways, we learn that Mr John M'Gee, the well-known engineer, has drawn up the plans and estimates, which are to be submitted shortly to the Municipality for approval. We hail this new departure. Anything that will spare us the sight of wearied and half-starved horses will be welcomed by the public. The crusade against cruelty to horses appears to have produced some salutary effect amongst men of capital and enterprise—we will not say tram-drivers; that may come in time, when steam and electricity shall have won the day. This elevated electric-tramway has been closely followed by another scheme. The project to which we refer is for a cable-traction tram to run through Paseo Julio, Piedad, Alsina, Jujuy, Callao, Entre Rios, and other streets. This scheme has been submitted to the Concejo Deliberante, who are at present examining its merits.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Congress is announced to be opened tomorrow by President Celman, whose Message is looked for with the keenest anxiety evinced since the opening of the National Parliament in 1880. The contents of the Chief Magistrate's Message are so closely held that nobody seems to have the slightest inkling of them.

The National Deputies held a preliminary sitting yesterday and elected Mr. Malbran their President by 41 votes; Sr. Zorilla 1st Vice President, and Sr. Cano 2nd Vice President.

We can put a chance in the way of connoisseurs of fine engravings which they do not get every day. A choice collection of some of the best engravings of the London Art Union is now for private sale at 893 Calle Rivadavia (altos) near corner of Suipacha. It is a unique collection, and includes that famous master-piece, "The Monarch of the Glen," by Landseer, "Weber's Last Thought," and others of the highest merit. Even at home now money often cannot buy these magnificent old engravings, the price of which rises every year.

The agent of the Pacific Company in Montevideo favoured us with a telegram yesterday stating that he has received a letter from a passenger on board the Oroya, dated from the Mediterranean on April 4th, saying that she left Plymouth on March 30th and Gibraltar on April 3rd, consequently the news of her having gone down in the English Channel is, happily, false.

The usual Sunday dish of ball-playing races, operas, etc., etc. is on the cards for to-day. The man (and he must come some day) that will start anything out of the beaten circle for Sunday recreation will deserve a ton of gold medals. Racing and ball-playing are really only business disguised as pleasure.

The English classical races seem in a tangle. On Wednesday Enthusiast, who had run three times unsuccessfully last year, carried off the 2000 Guineas, whilst on Friday, Mr. Viner's Minthe, whose 5 attempts as a 2 year old had been fruitless, was returned the winner of the 1000 Guineas. With El Dorado, Enthusiast and Monte Christo, Mr. Douglas Baird should have a first-rate season.

The Rev. Pelham Ogle will conduct the Services to-day at St. Bartholomew's church, Rosario.

General Santos was in the same condition yesterday. He has held out so long that, we hear, there were some very faint hopes of a favorable reaction.

The Captive Balloon makes its debut to-day at the Recoleta. The first ascent takes place at noon. No doubt this new diversion will cut out the Russian Mountain for a time, till some new excitement is offered our pleasure-loving citizens.

A bull in a china shop is a proverbial sight, but it is rarely that a bull attends a wedding. At Paysandu, the other day however, a bull invited himself to a wedding and made things even more unpleasantly lively than the stone Comendatore when he dropped in on Don Giovanni and his friends at the roué's last midnight carouse this side of the Styx.

On Wednesday evening next, the winter season of the English Literary Society will be inaugurated at the Society's new Rooms, 732 Cuyo, by Professor Martin, who will read a paper on "Our National Sports". The subject is a wide one and sure to be interesting.

The latest purchase for the Argentine Turf is Fullerton, late the property of the notorious Charles Wood. This horse is probably at present time 7lb superior to Acme, but being 5 years old as against 4 is not likely long to remain his master. The price given, according to the London 'Sporting Times,' was £5000. With Fullerton, Wiseman and Acme here, we shall be able to see another edition of the Lincolnshire Handicap in the Grand International.

Our "Tramway Cruelties" correspondent, whose head and heart are evidently in the right place, has sent us the following spicy bit from a North American paper. On our Table are to be found all the articles enumerated by our New York colleague, and a gypsum woman to boot: He can't beat that:—

Dear Standard.—I herewith enclose you the above for "Editor's

De un esplendido area de campo flor en el partido de Ranchos, estancia conocida por de Thorp, el Monte Cuadrado y la Azotea 2295 hectaraas alambradas con poblaciones montes etc inmediato a las estaciones del F. C. del S.; Jeppener, Altamirano y Alegre, base infirma 140 $ hectarea, vale triple, con 150,000 $ cedulas serie A oro. En nuestra casa Alsina 482.

El Jueves 9 de Mayo,
A las 2 p. m.

Remataremos por cuenta y orden de su propietario y condiciones que se estipularan mas abajo; el renombrado establecimiento de campo conocido por La Azotea y Monte Curdrado, antes pertenecientea a la testamentaria de Thorp ubicado en el partido de Ranchos a una y media legua de la estacion Jeppener e igual distancia mas o menos de las de Altamirano y Alegre; campo flor dividido en cuatro potreros perfectamente alambrado con 6 hilos, postes de ñandubay, y las poblaciones Monte Cuadrado de 3 piezas de material techo de teja, monte de arboles frutales y otras; hay ademas alguna arboleda donde existian antes puestos que hoy son taperas; la poblacion de la Azotea se compone de 3 piezas de material con techo de teja, alambrado de primer orden con tranquera al camino general.

Es campo inmejorable para invernada de hacienda lo mismo que para agricultura y formacion de un centro agricola, por tener tres estaciones del F. C. del Sud á tan corta distancia; es a no dudar una de las areas de campo que mayor porvenir ofrecen, ya sea para explotarse personalmente o para la especulacion, pues dentro de muy poco tiempo valdra mas del triple de su actual precio, haciendo la fortuna de quien lo adquiera.

Para que los interesados puedan visitar esta propiedad, habra todos los Jueves y Domingos un coche en la estacion Jeppener para llevar los interesados.

Con el fin de realizar la venta de su propietario actualmente en Europa, ha fijado para el objecto una base bajisima, pues nosotros reptnamos que actualmente vale mucho mas que 140 ps. la hectarea por cupo precio se venderea siempre que haya postores.

Esta alhaja se puede adquirir con muy poca plata, haciendose cargo el comprador de la hipoteca que reconoce 150,000 ps. oro de la serie A provinciales.

Llamamos la attencion de los especuladores sobre esta esplendida propiedad.

Planos y pormenores se obtienen en nuestra casa Alsina 482.

Esta ubicado entre las Estaciones
Guerrero y Taillade

Lindando con las dos Estaciones

Esta ya pedida por el Gobierno a la empresa del Ferro-carril del Sud una estacion en este Centro Agricola.

Las tierras que componen este Centro son inmejorables; lo mismo de Castelli. Es necesario verlas para poder apreciarlas y convencerse que son las mas apropiadas para la agricultura, no solo por ser tierras altisimas y vegetales, sino por las facilidades que ofrece para el transporte de sus productos y a este respecto se encuentra en condiciones escepcionales pues sobre estar ubicado entre las estaciones Guerrero y Taillade de la Empresa del Ferra-carril del Sud. Se ha solicitado establecer otra estacion en este centro.

La adquisicion de esta tierra puede hacerse sin desembolso, pues reconocen un gravamen hipotecario de $130 mn hectareas en cedulas de la Serie N cuyo precio de $130 la hectaras será la base para la venta.

En estas condiciones el colono puede continuar con la hipoteca, redimiendola en los años que debe durar.

This is the most important and indispensable Industrial Undertaking of the country, and the one which offers the largest prospect of profit to its shareholders, from the opportunities it possesses of obtaining concessions and purchasing forests, of the richest and strongest woods requiring only the hand of the practical and scientific man and the power of capital to create the means of transport and economical manufacture, sales being sure, remunerative and easy in this Republic, as well as in Uruguay and Europe, in consequence of the natural requirements of Industry and Building. No business man or capitalist should delay subscribing, for his own and his country's sake, freeing us from the enormous annual tax of $12,000,000 now paid by us to foreigners for woods inferior to the Argentine.

As usual, business at the ring to-day was almost entirely taken up with transactions in National Bank, Credito Real, and Constructors. The sovereign stock at first threatened a complete collapse, dropping to 250.50 for end of month, but at this rate many buyers stepped in and the rate quickly ran back to 251, at which there were plenty of buyers offering, sellers asking 251.50. Constructors fluctuated for cash between 130 and 132.50, closing at 132, and it is the general opinion that the stock must advance, as the bullish syndicate is buying heavily. An unwonted feature was the stiff business done in the Obligations, which were in general demand at a rate ranging between 14.50 and 15. The City of Buenos Aires Mortgage Bank Shares put in an appearance, the 40 p.c. Scrip being quoted at 45, or say about 12 p.c. premium, a successful opening for this valuable stock, which is a gold stock and pays gold dividend. Credito Real were only done for end of month, opening at 141.50 and closing at 141. Cedulas were in brisk movement at sustained rates.

"Obligaciones" of the Banco Constructor are in stiff demand; the whole market is buying for the drawing on the 15 inst. The speculation looks about the best in the market as the buyers have not only the chance of the great prize, 50,000 nats, and for the smaller prizes, but after the drawing, should their number win nothing, they can sell their tickets for the same price they cost them, and as by each drawing these obligations become less numerous, the result is they increase in value after each drawing. To-day the offices of the Bank were crowded with small purchasers, the price at the bank being 20 m/n per ticket or Obligation, whilst on the Bolsa they were bought in large lots at 15 and 15½. The drawings are public and above board, and in the presence of the Directors of the Bank, the Government Inspector, and the "escribano." Nothing could be fairer, and it is in consequence of this that the tickets or "Obligaciones" are in such great demand.

A financial shudder went through the market in the morning on the news that nearly all round town gold was going up the scale hand over hand. Last night it left off at 157½, and this morning on the sudden spurt upwards, reaching a 160 quotation about 2 o'clock. As it was rumoured in the evening that the bank had given rather freely, matters quieted down, and at the close we heard of gold offered at 159. This Jack-in-the-box movement of gold is setting everybody by the heels, as fluctuations so violent are but little less prejudicial than earthquakes, so far as business is concerned, a high premium being far preferable in every way to such erratic and spasmodic movement. Gold on the 1st at 155, on the 2nd at 156, on the 3rd at 157½, and on the 4th at 159 to 160 is not calculated to give merchants much breathing time. It is only right to add that the end of the tether is generally considered reached at the latter rate.

Around the produce tables of the Bolsa this evening there was a great throng, and one could see at a glance that the payments for the week were enormous, and the business done in the plazas unusually large. It seems that there is much more wheat coming in than "consignatarios" expected, and as for maize, it is now arriving by every train; but the story is that there are no more waggons outside, and that the maize arrivals would be much larger had the railways more waggons.

The applications to buy gold at the Nat. Bank were larger than ever, and all the gold brokers were exultant that the Bank is so thronged with buyers and gives so little. They say that it is only a question of time, and that very soon they will be the winners, and Minister Varela defeated; but most parties think that if the Bank stopped selling and gold jumped up, it would be only momentary, as plenty of "bona fide" sellers would come forward to avail of the high premium.

Telegrams from London to-day announced the launching of a large amount of new Argentine R.R. stocks, and with the most brilliant success. This bears out what our London correspondent last month wrote, namely, that for railways, etc., in the Argentine Republic, the market never ruled better, but for loans the market is impossible.

Pamphlets were given round to-day descriptive of the new town, colony, and manufacturing centre called Monte Grande, founded by Messrs. Coni, Sansinena and Co., on the old Fair property known as Monte Grande, in the partido Lomas de Zamora.

The latest news on 'Change this evening about Congress was that President Juarez Celman will open the Session on Monday next. The President's message is all ready and printed.

Exchange, spite of the great activity in produce, rules weak, owing to the large amounts taken, but we learn on best authority that one of the private banks, said yesterday to be the largest taker in the market, has taken nothing. Some first-class bills from Montevideo, but not bank-paper, were passed at 47¼-d¼d.

Paper money continues tight, and for very large operations they say there is no paper to be had at any of the banks. Nat. Bank Shares have fallen so much, and still continue so very weak, that there is great talk in the market of a syndicate being formed to buy the stock. The syndicate would have to buy at least 30,000 shares and for this number of shares it seems impossible, as the market at present rules, to get the money.

A telegram was received from St. Vincent to-day, announcing the R.M.S. Tagus arrived there yesterday, all well on board and splendid weather.

The R.M.S. Atrato is expected in Montevideo on Monday, and parties who have reserved cabins had better make the engagement effective, as after Monday no cabins will be reserved unless taken.

Business at the second hour was rather dull. The sovereign stock died off to 249, but later on recovered again and closed with buyers at 250; and it is thought that bottom may now be considered touched, in spite of the palpable tendency of the market to collapse. Credito Real were fairly brisk at 139.50 cash and 140.50 end of month, which shews decline. La Plata Moles were done at 145, also a low quotation, but Catalinas and Constructors were firm. The Obligations, as in the morning, were in good demand, as also Cedulas, particularly the National kind, which shew advanced rates for all the series.

The ship-agents in town have sent in a petition to the Government to have something done with the Riachuelo channel, which is getting very shallow, there being only 16 feet of water in some places.

More Centros Agricolas. The following were authorized yesterday:—R. Martinez for 8978 hectares in Colonel Suarez, Emilio Wenk for 4000 hectares in Olavarria, E. C. Quirno for 6688 hectares in Colonel Suarez, J. J. Almiron for 7888 hectares and G. Martinez for 9186 hectares both in same partido of Colonel Suarez, which promises to be a bee-hive of colonies.

The regulations for port dues were amended yesterday in La Plata Legislature as follows:—To Art. 1 of Dec. 11/88 was added that all steamers pay 8 cents per ton register and ships in ballast 4 cent per ton register. Also that the first two clauses of Art. 5 be suppressed and replaced by cubic metre or 1000 kilos. Storeage on parcels of less than 3 tons, 3 cents per diem, and storeage on closed parcels of 3 to 6 tons 6 cents per diem.

The s.s. Oro, Captain Fowler, entered port of La Plata yesterday, arriving with slightest trouble in the new dock where she has begun to discharge her cargo. Captain Fowler and his pilot eulogise the works in unmeasured terms, adding that no less than 40 steamers can imitate his example simultaneously. The Oro is consigned to W. Samson and Co.

Three issues of Argentine securities at London were reported to-day; first, £600,000 in 5 p.c. debentures at 90 p.c. for North-East Argentine Railway; second, £250,000 City of Santa-Fe Loan at 95 p.c., and third, £175,000 for Argentine Southern Land Company.

The s.s. Nord America has arrived at Montevideo with 60 first-class, 80 second-class, and 1100 third-class passengers; also 300 tons cargo.

The s.s. Travellers has arrived at Montevideo from Liverpool with dates to 6th of April and 4,410 tons cargo.

The s.s. Rosarian arrived at Montevideo to-day from Glasgow and Liverpool. She brings 4590 tons cargo, 3 horses, 20 cattle, and 4 pigs, all having arrived in good condition. Papers, correspondence, etc., will be up on Monday.

To-night a large party leaves per steamer for Montevideo to attend the monster sale of 300 houses to-morrow in the Barrio Reus, Montevideo. This is the first auction of the kind ever held in the Plate, and naturally it attracts great attention. We believe the houses will sell well, as houses are very scarce in Montevideo, and rents almost as high as in this city. Mr. Casey, the President of the Obras Publicas, we believe will come up to Buenos Aires for a few days after the auction.

The large amount of exchange taken during the week by one or two of the private banks proves the enormous business those banks must be doing in small drafts over the counter to their customers; we suppose that never before was this business so active as at present, but we must always take into account the large number of people gone to Europe for the exhibition, and their extravagant living in Paris.

Dr. Cupertino del Campo has been named President of the Bolsa Bank, owing to Sr. Larreta's departure to Europe. The business of this bank has no doubt been greatly checked by the stoppage of the gold ring, but it still has a very wide field to operate in, and at the end of last month it did a very large and splendid business in passes on National Bank shares, and probably this month it will do even more, if it has the money.

The R.M.S. Atrato is expected in Montevideo on 6th inst. and we suppose will be up on 7th. Mr. Dickson, M.P. for Dublin, is expected out in her, with his daughter.

To-day close on 2000 emigrants were landed from the steamers. It is perfectly wonderful how, in the presence of such large arrivals, there are still such great complaints about the scarcity of hands to get in the maize.

The ss. Graf Bismarck does not sail from here on the 10th May as announced.

The movement of New York City Banks is something colossal, as can be gathered from the following data. For the week ending March 16th the average amount of deposits for 63 banks totalled 442,634,900 dollars, the average amount of loans and discounts being 420,406,000. The business at the Clearing House for this and previous week was

A telegram was received on the Bolsa to-day from London, under date May 3rd, announcing close of colonial wool auctions. Prices were sustained up to the last, the demand being brisk and buyers numerous; 9,505 bales sold. The next auctions will open on 18th June with 400,000 bales offered.

According to the Governor of Santiago del Estero's message, the Provincial Bank of that province seems to be doing excellent work, having already credits open to amount of 2,232,000 dols. fully secured, and discounted commercial bills to amount of 469,700 dollars. The disposable capital of the bank at present is only two million dollars.

The s.s. Costa Rican, Lamport & Holt packet, which is expected on the 7th, will leave again on the 22nd with a full list of passengers.

In selecting a Life Assurance Company, the considerations of chief importance are
SAFETY AND PROFIT.
1. SAFETY (or permanent protection,)—This is measured by Surplus and the ratio of Surplus to Liabilities.
Of the Leading Companies of the world,
The Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States
Has the Largest Surplus and the highest ratio of Surplus to Liabilities.
2. PROFIT (or the largest present and future advantage.)—This is measured not by increase in Surplus alone, nor by Dividends paid alone, but by both combined; that is, by "SURPLUS EARNED."
Of the Leading Companies of the world, the Equitable shows the Largest Surplus Earnings.
No Policies show such profitable returns as those issued on the TONTINE PLAN, a system devised and introduced by the Equitable Society.
The more recent form of Tontine policies (Semi-Tontine) become Non-forfeiting and Absolutely Incontestable three years from their date of issue, and are made Payable Immediately upon their maturity.
